THE RICHMOND DISPATCH.

UP-TOWN OFFICE, 63 EAST BROAD END OFFICE, PARK-PLACE CY, Belvidere and Main streets.

THURSDAY....FEBRUARY 14, 1895

The Times is wandering away from the ject. What is the use of its teiling ral is all right; that the circular sent out by Secretary Lawless is all right—that both of these officers are the names of candidates on the official ots used in last November's elections

Of course they are blameless. The Atwas left to the judgment and discre of the Commonwealth communicated this epinion to the electoral boards, and there the duties of these two officers ting under the opinion of the Attorney-neral, did have the right, as they sinblieved that they had, to alternate the names, we shall continue to insist—the opinion of the Times to the Now let us return to the main ques

On Tuesday of last week the Times protested against the Dispatch's "desecrating the name of fairness by saying that the (November) election was and it denounced the alternation dying infamy upon its manipulators." Now here's a question for the Times: ing that before the election Harry Tucker knew of and approved the prosed alternation; supposing that since e election he had spoken boldly and unitatingly in defence of alternation; tion in his contest, and he should till be willing to hold his seat in Congress, would the Times class him as a ry of fraud, and include him iemned to "undying infamy"? And under such circumstances would the Times

What have you to say to these ques and say up and down, should Tucker have his seat in Congress or not? Supposing the name of Tucker erased and that of William A. Jones substituted therefor, would the Times think that Jones could honestly hold his seat? An-

W. A. Jones we insert that of Gardiner Tyler, does the Times think that Mr. Tyler could bonestly hold his seat? An-

Or, take the name of W. R. McKenney; would the Times allow that McKenney was honestly elected? Or, take the case of Otey, or Meredith. In either case does candidate could honestly hold his seat? Apply the test to the entire list of Demoerats elected to Congress from Virginia in 1895, and let the Times say which one or is not, entitled to "undying infamy"-which one is or is not honestly

And mind you that every Democrat in the Virginia delegation elected last November comes from a district—for aught that know to the contrary-where alter ballots were used-this 'infamous' thich is the prime question now under on between the Times and the tch-the Times having dropped its ard contention that the Secretary of the Commonwealth had no authority der the law to communicate to the inion of the Attorney-General of this State which said that the order and arthe Legislature to the judgment nd discretion of the electoral boards. Times has quite recently eulogized Hon, John Randolph Tucker. It adlawyer; it has much admiration for his personal character: it believes, we take it, that Mr. Tucker is the Christian es knew that the Hon. John Randolph Tucker approved the alterna-tion of names on the ballets, would it think him a "trickster"; would it include him in the list of those Democrats of Virginia whom it would consign to "un-tying infamy"? Now, answer this ques-tion, too, Mr. Times!

If we understand the working of the noter it is quite possible for one to get seems little gas with which he is not charged, but it is next to impossible for him to be charged with any gas that he desen't get. This we know is the reverse of the popular belief—an unpopular opinion we may say—but we believe that the tacts are as stated by us. The Gas Inspector is often, we might say usually, abused without good cause.

It is not by any means "odorleis" yet.

The Populists of the North Carolina Legislature seemed to think the other Democrats when they had succeeded in substituting for the currency resolution increasing the circulation in the United States to $50 per capita.

We have had occasion heretofore to say that nobody could tell how much circulation per capita was necessary to the smooth working of any financial sys-tem. One thing at least which ought never to be lost sight of in this connec tion is that if the nominal circulation were, say, $1,500,000,000, this sum would practically be doubled by using it twice a day instead of once a day. It has a the amount of the currency can never be note passed from hand to hand a hundred times in a single day will pay

But these same gentlemen are constantly clamoring for more circulation in the "outlying provinces" of the financial world, and seem to be fully bent upon opposing any new banking system does not provide for a currency which will stay at home-a homing currency-a currency which will float on the wings of the wind from any town, county, or city in the United States to the town, county, or city where it was issued. The famous "flush times in Alabama" were as nothing to the flush times all over the United States which are expected to follow the repeal of the 10 per cent. tax upon the circulating notes of State banks and the substitution of these latter notes for the circulating notes of the national banks. But is it true that the system of State banks which we had in this country before the war operated to fill full the currency channels? Consult Spofford and learn what he says on the subject. Here are some significant figures: He says that in 1840 the paper circulation was only $5.66 per capita, in 1851 it was only $6.47. and in 1860 it was only $6.59. But, more to be wondered at, he says that in 1837the most famous of years for its hare times—the circulation per capita was $10.26, or 50 per cent, more than it was in the good time of 1851 or 1850. Spofford, we say, gives these figures in the American Almanac for 1878, but they were prepared by Edward Young, Chief of the National Bureau of Statistics. In other words, these figures are official. nishing a good reason why the volume of the circulating notes of the country should not be increased, but as an as surance that if it is not increased the world will not come to an end.

The Southern Railway Company's Employees.

The letter of the president and third vice-president of the Southern Railway HUNTER & CO., think that Tucker could honestly hold Company to the joint committee of enmen who lately asked the company for a restoration of pay at the rates which given in full in another part of to-day's Dispatch.

> R is a paper that contains a great deal of general information, which will be of interest to all of the business public, and we think that it deals with the employees with great frankness and fairness. The company makes an exhibi of its affairs to its employees and shows why it is that it cannot undertake to do more for them than it promises to do in the schedules made a part of the letter. The company states that its "successful reorganization upon ,a solvent basis does not indicate any increased power to pay wages or other items of operating expense." The earnings "have not improved, except for a short period, and then only as compared with the worst year in the history of the roads." President Spencer and Vice-President Baldwin take pains to explain all these 629 EAST BROAD STREET. things in their letter, a copy of which will go to each employee, and it would seem that the facts and arguments which they present would have the effect of SLEIGHS AND convincing the employees that they cannot reasonably expect better pay until better times come.

A Valentine.

(Felix Carmen, in the Century.) Before the buds awaken, Or pink the blossoms blow, While yet the boughs forsaken, By lovers dedicated To good St. Valentine.
And there before the altar
He kneels, beseeching grace;
His heart forgets to falter,
Remembering your face;
And all his words are fashioned
Into a single line— Into a single line—
A lover's prayer impassioned
To his saint, Valentine.
His eyes with rapture glisten,
His heart with hope is high,
He almost thinks to listen
And hear your footsteps nigh;
Ah, sweet, when he shall find you,
And voice his prayer and mine,
Let no vain doubtings blind you—
Say yes, my Valentine!

Crows suffering and Many of Them
Dying-Cholera Among Sheep.
EAST RADFORD, VA., February ii.—
(Special.—The wintry weather still hangs on and looks as if the whole month will be a record-breaker. The snow falling now is the fourteenth this winter, and according to the old Dutch rule there will be twelve more. The rule was "as many snows during the winter as the month was days old when the first snow fell."
As the date was the 28th we are yet to have twelve.

As the date was the 28th we are yet to have twelve.

Crows have had a hard time during the cold weather of the past week. They are poor and weak, and many are found dead under the trees where they roost.

Mr. Turner, who lives just across the river, had a horse frosen to death on Thursday night.

The farmers still report their sheep as dying from something like cholera.

In the Hustings Court to-day a man named Shelburn was found gulity of forgery and sentenced to fifteen days in jail and to pay a fine of $100.

Captain A. J. Lucas, who lives here, and was married in 1833, says this is the worst weather since that winter, when snow drifted over the tops of the highest fences and wagons crossed New river on the ice. woman handsome.

The satisfaction of attracting the attention of men is no more to most women than the gratification afforded by feeling equal to other women. Leaving out all considerations of comfort and looking only at the matter on the side of beauty, and the signored until they have become dominant—disease allowed every chance to spread and gain a settled seat—these things bring about the sunken, circled eyes, the hollow cheeks, the pale and sallow akin, the flabby, strengthless flesh, which characterize the appearance of the woman who suffers from "female weakness."

There is no reason, save that of carelessness, why the human female should not be as strongly healthy as the human male. There is no reason in nature for it—there is no excuse in the world for "female weakness." If proper care be taken, its existence can be stopped.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has cured thousands of suffering women. It is a perfected specific for the troubles peculiar to them. It eradicates the disease, stops the dragging, life-sapping drain, and in a perfectly rational, satural way, builds up the wasted strength. It will bring buoyant health. It will put roses into anomic faces—solid flesh in sunken places. It does away with the humilitating examinations and "local treatment" so much dreaded by modestly sensitive women. For thirty years, it has been successfully prescribed by Dr. Pierce, Chief Consulting Physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y.

MONTEREY, VA., February 12.—(Special.)—Ernest T. Dickenson, a young man cial.)—Ernest T. Dickenson, a young man hailing from New Hope, Augusta county. Va., and purporting to be a travelling salesman for Thomas Hogshead & Co., druggists, of Staunton, became "stranded" at this place several weeks ago. While here he met and fell in love with Miss Annie E. Hiner, a young and pretty girk, which love seems to have been reciprocated by her, as an agreement of wedlock soon followed. Friends of the girl and relatives of the prospective bridegroom, who had become acquainted with the facts, strenucusly objected, because of the absence of his visible means of support, and a brother having given him sufficient money to bear his expenses home the match was declared off until a few days later, when he again showed up, badly frostbitten, but still determined. He succeeded in procuring a marriage-license from a deputy cirk without parting with the usual dollar. A preacher was in waiting, and in less than a jiffy the two hearts were welded into one, the groom with ears frozen until drooping like trozen geranium leaves. The ceremony ended, and nothing more substantial being in sight, the minister was made the recipient of profuse thanks. He got his wife on credit, and the record is broken.

There's no Danger to be feared, even if you do use too much Pearline in the washing. If there's any danger of damage at all, it's when you use too little. In that case, you'll have to begin that dreadful rubbing —and carloads of Pearline couldn't do as much damage to your clothes as that will.

Follow the directions on the package-that's the best way of all. But remember, too much won't hurt anything. It's only a waste of good Pearline.

Send Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, it Back and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back.
